

NATO BIOTECHNOLOGY CONFERENCE

“Prepare, Foster, Protect”

Royal Military Academy,
Brussels, Belgium

28 October 2025

Biography Jim STOKES

Jim STOKES is the NATO Director of Nuclear Policy, renowned for his expertise in nuclear deterrence and weapons of mass destruction (WMD). With a focus on special operations, intelligence, and information systems, he plays a critical role in shaping NATO's military strategy. Stokes possesses significant regional expertise in Europe/NATO, Russia, and Northeast Asia, providing valuable insights into geopolitical dynamics and security challenges. His work ensures that NATO remains adept at addressing contemporary security threats through informed and strategic policy development.